

5VIE Design Week 2023

Design for Good

Milan Design Week

17 - 23 Aprile

Milan, 30 March 2023

For its tenth edition, 5VIE Design Week - the diffused event dedicated to artistic and collectible design, high craftsmanship and the contamination of design with the fields of art and creativity in the broadest sense - returns to the district of Milan's historical centre, in the area between Corso Magenta, Sant'Ambrogio and Le Colonne di San Lorenzo.

This year's title, Design for Good, is intended as an invitation to look at design as a tool for creating and cultivating deep human connections, with a focus on sustainability rooted in mutual care. International curators, artists and designers have been called upon to confront this theme through a series of installations produced by 5VIE, which run alongside the exhibitions of independent studios, companies and designers in the district.

Design for Good

This year's exhibitions and installations produced by 5VIE address themes such as spirituality, the connection with nature, the relationship with one's historical roots, the drama of incommunicability and the notion of connection. Faced with the complexities of the present and the challenges of the future, the intention of 5VIE is to emphasise how the strength of design lies in the poetic connection between the aesthetic dimension - in what is beautiful - with that of ethics - in what is good. Through aisthesis then, feeling with the senses and with the heart, design becomes a language capable of connecting human beings beyond all borders and diversity and it turns into a tool for constructing values.

With this title, we want to draw attention to the need to rediscover a fundamentally human dimension, which contrasts disengagement with total commitment, total dedication to the other, restoring relationships and rediscovering the natural exchange between human beings.

con il contributo di:

2023 edition:

Can this sense of sharing help us rediscover humanity, even where it seems lost due to global upheavals? Can design tap into an intimate and universal good?

Can design be caring? It is not the conviction of having the answer, but the urgency of asking the question, that directed our research.

Care is a resistant and tenacious word, used in the same sense as twenty-four centuries ago, and compared to other easier or more tenuous words it expresses the capacity for vigilant and constant dedication.

Current events pose contingent challenges and the task of design is not to remain indifferent, translating urgency into opportunity. In a time of rapid transitions the need to find effective, pragmatic and quick answers can make one lose a real sense of direction. In confronting innovation and sustainability, we believe it is essential for design to take time to re-connect, to produce new, just and good design modes.

“Design for Good” is a play on words: a wish that design is “for real”, and above all, that it is oriented towards a common good.

5VIE productions

5VIE is not only a design district, but also a cultural producer. The productions represent moments of reflection on the state of the art of the discipline, in which artists, designers and curators are asked to deepen an aspect of the theme established at the time. This year 5VIE presents six productions in collaboration with international creatives, confirming already established partnerships and inaugurating new ones.

A Future for the Past

a project by on·entropy curated by Maria Cristina Didero

5VIE Headquarters - Via Cesare Correnti, 14

The exhibition is a tribute to the precious heritage of the marble of Tinos and the evolution of the typical craftsmanship of this Greek island, reflected in the changes in society over the years. The Greek duo on·entropy tells this intimate story, intertwined with that of their family life, through the metaphor of the Temple, which historically has been the place where artists and craftsmen have expressed themselves, and which has preserved countless artistic artefacts over the centuries. In a sensorial setting of lights, shadows, incense smells and relics, a 'cabinet de curiosité' tells the story of the marble of Tinos through objects, historical photos and videos, developing the centre-piece of the installation around a sculptural marble table-altar. An act of recovery of the past, in its formal heritage and technical knowledge, which projects it into the present and the future.

Chronic Pain Orchestra

a project by Johannes Willi

5VIE Headquarters - Via Cesare Correnti, 14

Swiss artist Johannes Willi presents his project Chronic Pain Orchestra for the first time in Italy. It is an installation work that invites the viewer to confront the corporeal dimension of relationships, the urgency to communicate and the ability of art to transform pain into beauty. The work emerged from a period of residency in close contact with patients suffering from chronic pain, and from reflections on the role of the verbalisation of pain in the healing process. With his work, Willi gives form to a language of the incommunicable, through a set of percussive sculptures that speak for the patients, that tell in a universal language what words alone cannot say.

The performative action is an integral and fundamental part of the work: visitors are invited to interact with the sculptures, completing and finishing them with their touch, thus collectively contributing to the creation of a shared orchestra.

Silent Hollows + #mirrors

a project by Richard Yasmine, art direction by Sebastiano Deva

5VIE Headquarters - SIAM, Via Santa Marta, 18

“Silent Hollows” is a tribute to Mother Nature, her intrinsic qualities and innate dispositions and the way she reflects the inner chaos of the human being. Richard Yasmine designs an installation enhanced by an immersive Virtual Reality experience that transports the viewer through the emotional landscapes of the human being, reflected as in a mirror by the landscapes of Nature. The Lebanese designer's new collection of mirrors is exhibited in this setting. An invitation to free the soul from attachment to matter, to let oneself fall into the depths, immersing oneself within the self.

This double thread linking the physical to the immaterial is reflected in the innovative application of artificial intelligence, which will be used during the week to create #mirrors, the first collection of NFTs generated from biometric data connected to the artistic experience. An innovative concept linking artificial intelligence and biometric data, web3 and the art experience.

Human Mandala

a project by Sara Ricciardi

5VIE Headquarters - SIAM, Via Santa Marta, 18

The installation “Human Mandala” is a celebration of the interconnectedness of human beings. The exhibition presents a series of real human bodies arranged in a circular mandala formation, with each individual naked and vulnerable, but connected to the others through a network of root-like structures like a mycelial organism. The bodies are arranged to create a sense of symmetry and balance, with each individual contributing to the beauty and harmony of the work.

The installation invites viewers to contemplate the ways in which we are all connected to each other and how the world is connected with us. Moving around the installation, the audience is able to see bodies from different angles, revealing new connections and patterns. Like a giant flower that keeps blooming and expanding. Together we create a powerful Mandala - with a sacred geometry that we keep repeating and repeating and repeating and repeating, ... - where a mystical Dolby surround sound coming from thirteen circular loudspeakers will immerse us in this feeling of connection between bodies, voices, between us.

Love Letters

a project curated by Anna Carnick per Anava Projects

“Love Letters” is an intimate exhibition presenting never-before-seen pieces, conceived by their creators as an expression of gratitude to people who have been significant to them. The works have a strong autobiographical component, all in different materials and techniques, celebrating the virtuosity and personal stories of the designers, but also serving to remind us of the impact we can have on each other. Today in particular, at a time of global upheaval, Love Letters highlights the role of kindness, vulnerability and creativity both in building communities and as a form of resistance to division and fear. The exhibition features an exceptional roster of international rising stars of design: Agustina Bottoni (Buenos Aires, Milan), Eve de Haan (London), Ibiyanε (Martinique), Ahryun Lee (Essenbach), Xanthe Somers (London) and Maryam Turkey (New York).

Prendete e Mangiate

a group exhibition curated by Sara Bologna

5VIE Headquarters - SIAM, Via Santa Marta, 18

“Prendete e Mangiate” is a collective exhibition-event dedicated to the table: a place for exchange and sharing, for building senses and identities and for negotiation between ourselves and others. Around a long table set with art and design objects, visitors are invited to exchange food and words, nourishment for body and mind.

The works of international artists, craftsmen and designers are on display: 1220° ceramics (Lior Shachar), Adam Knoche, Aina Kari, Aintdsgn, Alexander Kirkeby, Ana Villegas, Anna Karountzou, Anubha Sood, Astrid Luglio, Beatrice Carolina Gambato, Casa Remedios (Serena Cancellier and Mercedes Salazar), Catto Design Studio, Charline Ronzon-Jaricot, Chris Fusaro, Cote Garcia, DBO Home, DecorAzione by Angela Florio, Eleit, Haley Bates, Hana Karim, Iliaria Bianchi, Jeremy Sinkus, Kristin Burgham, LAM Ceramica, Miranda Keyes, Studio Kalff, Sun Hee Moon, The Art Flower Maker (Marcella Trimarchi), Vittorio Passaro, Yaara Rabinovitch.

Around the long table performative interventions and talks will alternate over the course of the week relating design in a shared symposium in progress with the performing arts, poetry, cuisine.

The design object becomes the device that allows us to develop other forms of relationships with the world, with nature, with ourselves, opening our imagination, taking us into the dimension of shared silence, of a more intense perception of the people and objects that surround us. Chiara Cappellini
per Zuecca Projects
presents: Dialogo in silenzio

con il contributo di:

2023 edition:

Chiesa di San Bernardino alle Monache

Chiara Capellini's exhibition "Dialogue in Silence" is articulated within the consecrated spaces of the Church of San Bernardino alle Monache, presenting itself as a silent conversation between the visitors, the works and the sacredness of the place. The disposition of the paintings - which show their backs to the entrance - combined with the observer's need to turn his back to the altar in order to look at the painted surfaces, produces a confrontation between spirituality and artistic creativity, which is to be resolved through silence.

The choice to paint works that don't represent anything and don't seek the figurative, but focus on actions such as putting on and taking off colors, assimilates the act of painting and its result to a sort of meditation. In this way, the installation becomes an opportunity to reflect on the relationship between art and spirituality through a meditation on emptiness. The silence that surrounds the installation is the tool that helps us to get in contact with the nothingness, with the unknown.

Forteshire

Presents: Dialoghi del Futuro

Conversations about the Future is a sensorial experience, a journey into the past, present and future of a house through the memories, emotions and aspirations of the people who inhabit it. The house proves itself to be more than just a frame: the objects that compose it, the spaces and the lights are elements in continuous dialogue with the life it hosts, caused by events and, in turn, the cause of events. Our guests will visit four rooms where, in each one, a single object and a soundtrack will evoke a fragment of past or future. These moments speak of us, of our relationship to time, and of the way we continuously relate to what we have been and what we will be. What is shown is, above all, the most constructive aspect of this eternal dialogue, because remembering which emotions and thoughts have allowed us to develop the best sides of us is a viable way to reconcile ourselves with our time and, eventually, to build and pursue future perspectives.

This exhibition is the first step in Irthi's research into the idea of the recipe as a design concept from which emerges an incessant cultural dialogue between East and West and between craftsmanship and contemporary aesthetics. Recipes have been used as alchemical formulas for processing ingredients from the realm of construction and food. Design can be a significant driver in raising awareness on craft preservation, while also focusing on local issues such as cultural heritage, cultural identity, and sustainability. Students delved into a series of urban mappings of various environments in the UAE, uncovering indigenous materials, local architecture methods and local crafts to create recipes for construction. Two more protagonists of contemporary design, Studiopepe and the creative duo Casalinghe di Tokyo, participate the exhibition by exploring the culture and gastronomic heritage of these territories.

Laboratorio Paravicini

Presents: SAMARCANDA

Via Nerino, 2

Along the ancient trade route that connected China to the Mediterranean lies Samarkand, a land of encounters, a crossroads city of cultures and traditions. The new Dish Collection takes us back to the traces of this ancient past by reinterpreting its multicultural spirit. A rich banquet invites us to relive the ancient splendor of the Persian empire. Each piece of the Samarkand Collection is different from the other to set an extremely varied table with a Middle Eastern flavor.

Every year, on the occasion of the Fuori Salone, Laboratorio Paravicini opens its courtyard to everyone with a scenic display. The MDW 2023 edition will feature a large sand dune in the working spaces of the ceramic workshop. Initially born as innovative proposals during Milan Design Week, the launch of each new Collection is now a "must have" that attracts the attention of an increasingly curious and demanding public.

From table settings to wall displays, the plates are all very special and sometimes even in limited edition. Setting a Table or decorating a wall, is already a conversation starter, it becomes a story.

Madi

presents: ATAVICO

Lo Studio, via San Maurilio 11

Ancestral like the distant call of a new consciousness, primordial like the vitality of nature and its renewed symbolic value. The project stems from the need to rebalance the relationship between man and nature and to define design as a tool for free expression but also for a change towards sustainable design. In ATAVICO, nature regains its space and interacts with visitors between aesthetic harmonies and delicate vibrations that touch all the senses.

Madina Visconti

Presents: La Collezione Edera

Via Santa Marta 13

Nature's motif is the element which impels the new Edera collection. Madina Visconti re-envisioned the iconic plant of Dionysus through warm, colourful leaves which evoke the period in which hederas bloom. The Edera collection emulates the indented leaves of hederas in every detail. All the pieces are fused in bronze using the lost-wax casting technique, starting from the true-to-life design of the leaves. Each vein, ripple and branch are an exact replica of what the plant kingdom so generously bestows upon us. Enamels further complement the naturalistic beauty of the leaves, adorning the collection with vivid colors. On this occasion, it will be possible to visit the newly renovated Atelier.

Markus Benesch per Curious Boy

2023 edition:

presents: Alpine Rising

5VIE Headquarters - SIAM, via Santa Marta 18

The exhibition transports visitors into a surreal world high in the mountains, exploring the needs and difficulties of our digital society through furniture, objects and space in an intuitive and playful way. The Alpine Rising collection embodies the essence of rural furniture, combining traditional elements with Markus Benesch's unique visual language: objects that promote an analogue lifestyle, creating a harmonious space that helps us reconnect with nature and ourselves. The 'Tuntschi' is a personal concept that embodies isolation, inner joy and analogue pleasures. It represents the Alpine lifestyle of our imagination, where the joy of losing something replaces the fear of losing it. 'Tuntschi' reflects our need for simplicity and the possibility of immersing ourselves in an unpretentious activity. It is about being detached from the world, creating and appreciating beauty, reducing everything to the essentials in order to foster creativity in a spacious environment.

Etico & Impronta vases

Big Apple design, piazza Mentana 3

This family of vases was made by recovering waste metal pipes, subsequently welded together according to the dimensions found, trying to put them together in positions that simulate precarious equilibrium conditions, and which also reminds us a bit of the position in which they were there where they lay alone.

The objects obtained, despite their simplicity, have a dynamic and iridescent impact based on the point of observation, under the light the solids and voids generate unexpected shadows. The vases, like small domestic sculptures, express all their materiality, without ever eluding the signs of a deliberately unsophisticated workmanship.

Piccoli Smalti is a collection of bas-reliefs that uses thin metal wires to delimit different parts of a design, thus creating cells filled with colored enamel.

Each object is named after a planet in the solar system.

Sandro Gorra

presents: Alice e l'Acqua
BigApple Design, Piazza Mentana 3

Like a children's tale on the creative stage of BigApple Design, Sandro Gorra's work exalts the drama of water that, when it dries up, goes away. One of his giraffes captures the moment of drinking, like a parable of beauty bent on the problems, such as desertification, that man's stupidity is creating for the entire planet. With the Milanese artist's usual irony-poetry, the cloak stains slide down adding spectacle to the problem. An iconoclastic language of showing the everyday moment.

Studio IB Milano

presents: Forme del Marmo
Via Medici 15, first floor

Marble as a material is one of the pillars of our culture: art, architecture and history. A material with a soul. Every piece of marble is unique, just as every human being is unique. Each slab has different colours, veins and textures, just as each piece has its own soul. With this exhibition, Studio IB wants to overturn the perception of marble and how it can be used. Unique pieces, sculpted from a single block of marble.

about 5VIE

5VIE was founded in 2013 as a territorial marketing project aimed at giving visibility and appeal to the area of the same name in the historic city centre of Milan: an area rich in history and culture, where among the vestiges of Imperial Rome, early Christian basilicas and Renaissance courtyards one can still find artisan workshops of the highest level, as well as refined boutiques and art and design galleries.
